

Title Staff's Job Satisfaction under Responsible Area of Academic Community
Development Assistance Center Region 3

Author Mr. Chaiwat Somvong Degree M.P.A.

Advisor Dr. Rangson Singhalert Chairman
Asst. Prof. Saovaluk Kosonkittiamporn Committee
Yupaporn Yupas Committee

Rajaphat Maharakham University, 2007

ABSTRACT

This research was purposed to study job satisfaction, its comparison and suggestions related to work practice of staff under responsible area of academic community development assistance center region 3. Subjects were 234 staff under the area gained by multi-stage simple random sampling. Package of computer program was conducted for data analysis . Frequency, percentage, means , and t-test were applied. Statistical significant level was assigned at .05 level.

The results showed that each aspect and total of staff's job satisfaction in the area were in medium level.

According to the comparison, different staff's gender showed no statistically significant difference of their job satisfaction. The same result did for different positions. There were suggestions as in addition .There should be more manpower distribution into district area, improvement of higher literacy in computer, improvement of working policy, enhancing work moral, cultivating work responsibility awareness, making clear format of work report and increasing appropriate budget of material objects supplies for the office of district community development.